

Second Annual
State of Oconee County Luncheon
Wednesday, March 31, 2010
11:30am – 1:30pm
Gignilliat Community Center
Seneca, SC

This annual event provides an opportunity for representatives from important segments of Oconee County to present up-to-date information to members of business, industry, education and the public.

Dr. Robert Becker, Director of the Strom Thumond Institute of Government and Public Affairs at Clemson University, will give the keynote address.

As a resident and business owner in Oconee County, Dr. Becker has a special interest in the people, economy and natural resources of the county and how they will shape its future. His expertise includes research into natural resources, rural and community development.

A panel discussion with county and city government representatives will address questions submitted by Chamber members. The panel consists of:

Paul Corbeil, County Council
Tim Mays, Fair Play
Diane Head, Mayor of Salem
Dan Alexander or Greg Diettrick, Seneca
A representative from Walhalla
Derek Hodgkin, Mayor of Westminster
Sharon Nunnery, Mayor of West Union

To submit your question(s), and the panel member it is for, send an email to your Chamber office with your specific question on it before March 20. The questions will be consolidated and the panel moderator, Scott Toussaint, Toussaint Law Firm, will ask the questions and lead the discussion.

All Chamber members are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to ask insightful questions relative to business and industry growth/retention and the future of our cities and county.

There are sponsorship opportunities for this event available to all Chamber members. Simply fill out the attached form, fax or email to your Chamber Office and you will be billed.
